M/Y STEEL, A 55M EXPLORER YACHT BUILT FOR RANGE

Built by Pendennis, STEEL is a long-range expedition yacht designed for extended cruising across a wide range of conditions.

Her steel hull and ice-class capability reflect a clear focus on safety and reliability, while her recent refit in 2025 confirms a well-maintained and operationally ready vessel.

Proven on long-distance passages, she presents a platform built for autonomy, with a consistent and robust approach to life at sea.

A DISTINCTIVE APPROACH TO LIFE ONBOARD

- ★ Designed for extended cruising, with a focus on range and autonomy.
- ★ A steel-built platform offering stability and confidence in a wide range of conditions.
- ★ An interior atmosphere inspired by a classic gentlemen's club, with a strong sense of privacy.
- ★ A yacht combining long-range capability with a structured and comfortable way of living onboard.

A PLATFORM BUILT FOR LONG-RANGE CRUISING

The exterior design of STEEL reflects her purpose as a long-range expedition yacht, with a strong and structured profile adapted to open sea conditions.

Built in steel and designed with ice-class capability, she combines robust construction with a layout focused on protection, circulation and usability across all decks.

Proven on long-distance passages, her configuration allows for confident navigation over extended distances, while maintaining a consistent and controlled onboard experience.

A STRUCTURED SPACE FOR OUTDOOR LIVING

The aft deck is arranged around a dining area and outdoor lounge, directly connected to the main interior spaces.

It provides a stable and functional setting for both meals and time at anchor.

A RELAXED SPACE WITH OPEN VIEWS

The sun deck includes a heated spa pool with counter-current and a covered seating area, positioned for open views.

It offers a quieter atmosphere, separate from the main circulation areas onboard.

A CLASSIC AND DISTINCTIVE INTERIOR

The interior of STEEL reflects a more traditional approach, with rich wood finishes and a layout designed around enclosed, defined spaces.

Inspired by classic gentlemen's club interiors, the atmosphere onboard is warm, structured and private, offering a different experience from more open, contemporary yachts.

A STRUCTURED MAIN LIVING AREA

The main salon and dining area are arranged as defined spaces within the interior layout.

They provide a setting suited to both formal dining and everyday use onboard.

INTIMATE SPACES THROUGHOUT

Smaller lounges are distributed throughout the yacht, offering more private and enclosed settings.

Details such as a dedicated wine cellar and adjoining cigar space contribute to a more distinctive and traditional onboard atmosphere.

A FULL-BEAM MASTER SUITE

The master suite offers generous volume, with a layout designed for comfort and privacy during extended stays onboard.

Its design remains consistent with the yacht's overall interior approach.

A FLEXIBLE GUEST CONFIGURATION

STEEL accommodates up to 12 guests across seven cabins, allowing for a variety of arrangements.

The layout supports both family use and mixed groups.
